This study aimed to evaluate the effect of the implementation of IFRS, together with problems encountered during the implementation of IFRS and the differences between versions of IFRS financial statement and the financial statements of PSAK version of PT Telekomunikasi Indonesia, Tbk.

This type of research is a case study. The data were obtained by conducting interviews, observation, documentation and library research. Data analysis techniques used was descriptive analysis by: 1) conducting interviews and analyzing the influence of the implementation of IFRS for Telkom, 2) Comparing financial statements versions of IFRS with PSAK, 3) Analyze cause differences, and 4) Analyze whether the differences is material.

The results of the data analysis and discussion showing that: 1) the effect of the adoption of IFRS for companies PT Telekomunikasi Indonesia, Tbk are: Telkom becomes the leader in the implementation of IFRS in Indonesia, the company then possesses a more valuable human resources, the investors and stakeholders than rely on Telkom's financial statements more, performance of the companies considered better, and it's information systems and technology are developed in accordance with IFRS requirements. 2) Constraints faced by PT Telekomunikasi Indonesia, Tbk are the lack of knowledge on IFRS, a huge risk on the implementation, and less supporting IT systems. 3) material differences between IFRS financial statements and PSAK financial statements caused by four things: the acquisition of the concession agreement registration services, the recording of the employee benefits, the cumulative adjustment to the transaction, and the acquisition of the land rights. This difference can be caused by any of these conditions, the first one is that IFRS standards are differ from PSAK, and the second is that in some cases the PSAK standards are unclear enough, and the third one is the presence of the double standards followed by the company relevant to the presentation in Indonesia Stock Market (to meet the PSAK standards) and the aboard Stock Market (to meet IFRS standards).
