The techniques of data gathering used were questionnaire, interview and documentary study. The analysis technique used Chi-Square analysis with level of significance = 0.05.

From the data analysis it could be concluded that: 1). There was a relationship between students' perceptions on college students PPL apprentices' competence with students' interests in continuing their study to college which was shown by χ^2 count = 6.12 > χ^2 table = 3.84 in the low relationship level which was $KK/KKmaks.$ = 0.34; 2). There was a relationship between parent' social economic status with students' interests in continuing their study to college which was shown by χ^2 count = 32.02 > χ^2 table = 3.84 in the strong relationship level which was $KK/KKmaks.$ = 0.69.
