

Indonesian Muslim Journalists To Play Important Role

AH16_210218

The Chairman of the Committee of the First National Congress of Forjim or the Muslims Journalists Forum (on 20-22 February 2018), Ahmad Zuhdi, has said that the event is especially concerned with the strategic agenda on nationhood and Islam in the country.

Mentioning that its theme was to strengthen the roles of Indonesian Muslim journalists in prospering the people, he said that the Forum also appreciated two Muslim journalists with their dedication for media and Islam. They were Asyari Usman (a senior and former BBC journalist) and Ranu Muda (from panjimas.com.), respectively.

In the meantime, the General Chairman of Forjim, Dudy Sya'bani Takdir, said that Lombok was the best place for the present Congress as members of Forjim would also like to look into and deepen the concept implemented by Lombok administration, causing it obtain an award-winning halal tourism.

Having a positive response from the governor of the West Nusa Tenggara or NTB province, Tuan Guru Bajang (a.k.a. TGB) and the province Tourism Department Chairman Fauzal, Dudy said that the Forum would play an important role in Indonesian media.

According to Dudy, who is also the managing editor of Ahad.co.id, Forjim is expected to be a respectful profession organization in the country.
