The chairman of the House of Representatives' or DPR's Special Team (Pansus) of the revised Bill on Terrorism, Muhammad Syafi'i, has criticized the government. He said that DPR's version of the draft bill has been ready, but that of the government has not been ready yet.

"The deliberation of the bill will be carried out soon after receiving that of the government's version," he was quoted as saying by Kiblat.net in Jakarta on Tuesday (5 December).

According to him, DPR has finalized the discussion on both the idea of involving the Indonesian military (TNI) in eradicating terrorism in the country and the definition of term on terrorism.

He hoped that the government would complete its discussion on the two problems as soon as possible.
