President Jokowi seems to be concerned with an action conducted by PKS or the Islamic Prosperous Justice Party, which is one of those initiating to spread up hashtags of #2019GantiPresiden or “let’s have a different new President through election in 2019” on Indonesian social media and through T-shirts.

In response to such hashtags, Jokowi said Saturday (on 7 April) that t-shirts could not make a person elected as president.

He also said that the one who could replace the president in the country was the people and with the blessings of Allah SWT.

Mentioning that he would warmly welcome to any criticism, he stated that the best criticism was based on data.
