I have gone through my article and could not find anything wrong with the method of referencing. I think my article has followed the rules stipulated by DCC journal. However, if you have found the specific section on which my method of referencing deviates from you rules please kindly inform me with red colour.

- Citations in the Text

All source references are to be identified at the appropriate point in the text by the last name of the author, year of publication and pagination where needed. Identify subsequent citations of the same source in the same way as the first. Examples follow:

1. If author's name is in the text, follow it with year in parentheses, e.g., Wong (1986).
2. Pagination follows year of publication after a colon, e.g., James (1979: 56).

3. If author's name is not in the text, insert, in parentheses, the last name and year, e.g., (Duncan 1986: 76).
4. Give both last names for two authors. Give all last names on first citation in text for more than two authors; thereafter use "et al." in the text. When two authors have the same last names, use identifying initials in the text, e.g., (Cribb and Brown 1995: 95), (JS Park and JH Park 2011: 23).
5. Separate series of references with semi-colons and enclose them within a single pair of parentheses, e.g., (Edwards 1981: 43; Lee et al. 1983: 112).
6. In case of daily, weekly, monthly publications and similar references, pagination follows dd/mm/yyyy after a comma, e.g. (The New York Times 01/04/2014, 3).
7. For manuscript that is planned to be published, year of writing shall be indicated. When there is no year of writing, n.d. shall be written. e.g. Taylor (n.d.)
8. In case of organization author, information that can be identified shall be provided. e.g. (Institute of Foreign Affairs and National Security 1992)
