

Cooking Pork Mixed with Dates, Indonesian Comedians Accused for Blasphemy

[Antonius Herujiyanto AH16_201018]

Two Indonesian comedians Tretan Muslim and Coki Pardede have been accused for having committed blasphemy and “offensive action.”

Not only has www.voa-islam.com carried the video, showing their performance insulting Muslims on stage, but it has also carried the comments given by the irritated on liners, condemning the comedians.

The video, which was originally carried on Trepan Muslim’s Instagram account, shows the comedians are cooking pork. While doing so, they are having a conversation, saying, among others, that it is their first time seeing pork.

Mixing the pork with Arabic dates and honey, they ask to each other, among others, wondering whether or not the pork has been apostated.

Being irritated with such an offensive joke, one of the on liners, Derry Sulaiman, angrily quoted the words of a respectful ulema on his Instagram account, saying that if you do not get angry when your religion is being insulted, you should end your life.

Another on liner, surya.dharma.1004837 condemned the comedians saying that they should be imprisoned, living in a pigpen for the rest of their life.

In the meantime, khumaidi_husein stated that they should be severely stabbed to death.
