Peneliti juga akan membandingkan penerapan sistem pengendalian internal dan GPG dengan faktor penyebab terjadinya fraud serta mengambil informasi tambahan mengenai fraud dan pencegahannya dari subjek penelitian. Setelah itu diakhiri dengan penarikan kesimpulan.

Hasil penelitian menunjukkan kelima prinsip GPG yaitu prinsip demokrasi, transparansi, akuntabilitas, budaya hukum serta kewajaran dan kesetaraan telah diterapkan dengan baik. Penerapan prinsip GPG telah memberikan dampak positif bagi pencegahan potensi fraud. Sistem pengendalian internal yaitu lingkungan pengendalian, aktivitas pengendalian, informasi dan komunikasi, serta aktivitas monitoring telah diterapkan dengan baik. Sedangkan penilaian resiko belum diterapkan dengan baik. Walaupun demikian penerapan sistem pengendalian internal efektif menekan potensi terjadinya fraud.

The aims of this study is to determine the extent to which Sariharjo village government applied the principles of Good Public Governance (GPG) and internal control systems. This study also examines the impact of implementing Good Public Governance and internal control systems for preventing potential fraud.

This type of research is a case study. Data obtained by conducting interviews, documentation and observation. The data analysis technique used is to describe the characteristics of the interviewees, then comparing the GPG principles and internal control systems with the implementation. It is also comparing the application of internal control systems and GPG with the factors that cause fraud potential.

The result shows that the five principles of GPG namely the principles of democracy, transparency, accountability, legal culture, and fairness and equality have been well implemented. The application of the GPG principles has a positive impact on preventing fraud potential. The internal control system, which is the control environment, control activities, information and communication, and monitoring activities have been implemented well. While the risk assessment has not been implemented well. However, the implementation of the internal control system effectively suppresses the fraud potential.
