Accountability in religious organizations is needed to assess organizational performance and organizational responsibility in managing finances.

This research type is qualitative with a case study approach. The data collection techniques used in this research were interviews and documentation. Interviews were conducted with the Parish Pastor and Parish Treasurer as those responsible and managing church finances. The data analysis technique is carried out using an input, process and output framework. The input consists of factors that influence accountability, the process describes accountability practices, and the output is the impact of accountability practices.

Based on the results of the data analysis that has been carried out, it shows that the implementation of financial accountability at the Santo Yohanes Rasul Pringwulung Parish focuses on two parties, namely reporting to external parties, namely the Keuskupan Agung Semarang as a form of administrative compliance and to the congregation as a source of church funds. The implementation of financial accountability is carried out by including the process of making church activity plans and budgets, managing finances independently so that they are able to meet their needs, making financial reports and financial management in each period, as well as performance evaluation and monitoring.
