This research analysed Angelina Jolie's speech style in the movie entitled Mr. and Mrs. Smith. This movie was chosen because of two reasons. First, this movie provides some aspects and issues regarding gender and language. Second, Jane Smith, the main character, starred by Angelina Jolie has unique speech style that is worth researching in relation to language study. Mr. and Mrs. Smith movie provides the examples of women's and men's speech styles that are uttered by Angelina Jolie.

This research was addressed to answer to two research problems, namely (1) which features of women's and men's speech are found in Angelina Jolie's utterances in Mr. and Mrs. Smith movie and (2) what factors affect Angelina Jolie's speech style in the movie. The objectives are to find out the features of men's and women's speech in Angelina Jolie's utterances and to identify the factors that affect Angelina's speech style. The theoretical bases to answer the first problem was that of Wood's (1993) about men's and women's speech and the second problem was that of Spolsky's (1998) Schmidt's (2002) about the causes of differences.

This research is in nature qualitative and categorized as the document analysis, the data source of which was movie's transcript. Four instruments were used in this research, namely, cross tabulation, hardware that was consisted of laptop and speaker, and the windows media player as the software, to analyse the first research problem and checklist to answer the second question.

The results showed that Angelina demonstrated four out of the six features of women's speech in her utterances, namely attention to the relationship level, conversational maintenance work, responsiveness, and tentativeness. The results also showed that Angelina demonstrated all features of men's speech in her utterances, namely status and control, instrumentality, conversational dominance, assertive, more abstract, and not highly responsive. The factors that affected Angelina's speech style in the movie were power relation and social situations. In conclusion, Angelina Jolie's speech style was considered as men's speech because total expressions of men's speech in her utterances were more dominant than the expressions of women's speech. From the total 67 chosen utterances, the most expressions shown were men's speech features with the total 53 utterances.

Penelitian ini menganalisa gaya berbicara Angelina Jolie dalam film berjudul Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Film ini dipilih karena dua alasan. Pertama, film ini menyediakan beberapa aspek dan isu yang berhubungan dengan gender dan bahasa. Kedua, pemeran utama, Jane Smith yang dibintangi oleh Angelina Jolie memiliki cara berbicara yang unik yang membuat peneliti tertarik untuk melakukan penelitian ini. Film Mr. and Mrs. Smith menyediakan beberapa contoh ciri khas women's dan men's speech yang diucapkan oleh Angelina Jolie.

Penelitian ini dilakukan untuk menjawab dua pertanyaan, yakni (1) apa saja ciri khas dari women's speech dan men's speech yang ditemukan dalam pengucapan Angelina Jolie dalam film Mr. and Mrs. Smith dan (2) apa saja faktor yang mempengaruhi gaya berbicara Angelina Jolie dalam film tersebut Tujuan dari penelitian ini adalah untuk menemukan ciri khas dari women's dan men's speech dalam pengucapan Angelina Jolie dan untuk mengidentifikasi faktor yang mempengaruhi pengucapan Angelina Jolie. Dasar teori untuk menemukan jawaban masalah pertama adalah teori Wood (1993) tentang Men's dan Women's Speech dan untuk menemukan jawaban masalah kedua peneliti menggunakan teori dari Spolsky (1998) dan Schmidt (2002) tentang The Causes of Differences.

Penelitian ini adalah penelitian kualitatif dan dikategorikan sebagai analisis dokumen, dengan naskah film Mr. and Mrs. Smith sebagai sumber penelitian. Terdapat empat instrumen penting dalam penelitian ini, yakni cross tabulation, hardware yang terdiri dari laptop dan speaker dan Windows Media Player sebagai software untuk menjawab pertanyaan pertama dan ceklist untuk menjawab pertanyaan kedua.

Berdasarkan hasil penelitian, ditemukan bahwa Angelina Jolie menunjukkan empat dari enam ciri khas women's speech dalam pengucapannya, yakni, attention to the relationship level, conversational maintenance work, responsiveness dan tentativeness. Peneliti juga menemukan Angelina menunjukkan seluruh ciri khas men's speech dalam pengucapannya yakni status and control, instrumentality, conversational dominance, assertive, abstract dan not highly responsive. Faktor yang mempengaruhi gaya berbicara Angelina dalam film Mr. and Mrs. Smith adalah kekuatan relasi dan situasi sosial. Pada kesimpulannya, gaya berbicara Angelina termaksud dalam men's speech karena total ekspresi dari men's speech dalam ucapan Angelina lebih dominan dibandingkan ekspresi women's speech.
